Standard Design Catalog Pages enable you to visualize your glass panel and communicate that vision to us...

UltraGlas' Catalog of Standard Designs —

UltraGlas is pleased to introduce our Catalog of Standard Designs, which may be found on our comprehensive website at UltraGlas.com. Here you'll find information and downloadable and printable catalog pages for most of our standard design options.

Website resource — you may preview designs in groupings of nine thumbnails, or navigate directly to any specific design. From our home page, click on the 'Glass Textures and Designs' link and then on the 'Standard Designs' sub-menu link.

Catalog Pages — see the full-mold illustration of each design, with links to download formatted catalog pages.

Download and Print — you can view and download all catalog pages (pdf) and print them for easy reference and use.

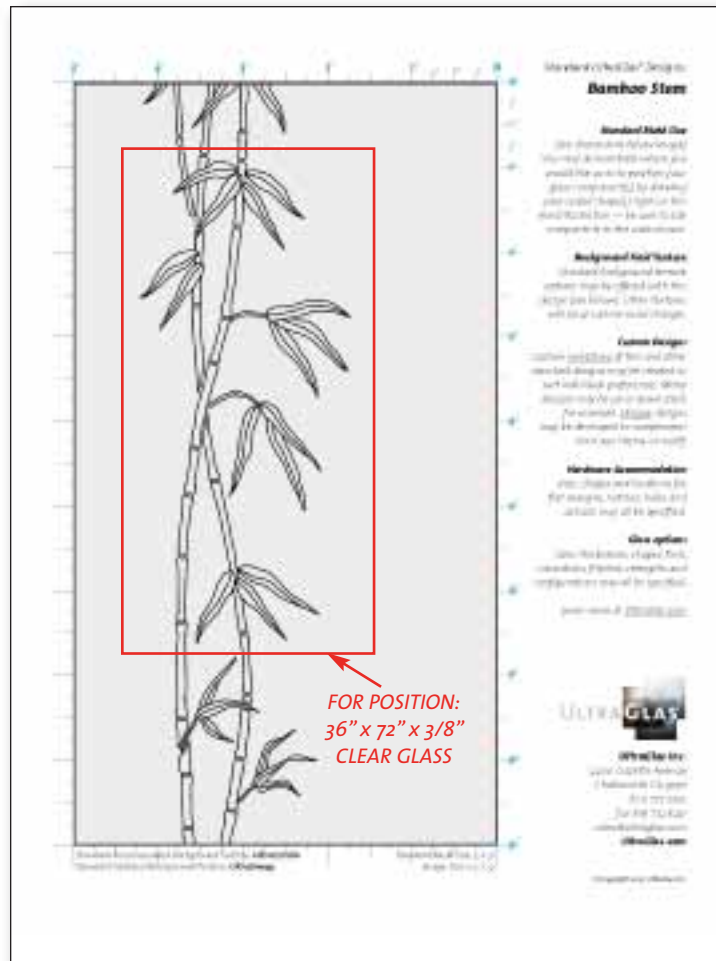

Full mold view — these scale illustrations (1" = 1') will enable you to illustrate the precise position of your glass panel on our mold, identifying the area of the design, as you want it to appear on your glass component. See the red box (in the illustration at left) to see just how easily this can be accomplished.

Illustrate location for fabrications — on this page, you can also identify exact locations for holes, notches, flat margins and any other fabrications that may be required — all in precise scale. This will enable you to visualize the exact position of all elements, before you even place your order.

Then submit this page with your order — your indication of glass position and any required fabrications will also be an invaluable tool for use by our production department in processing your UltraGlas order — to your exact specification.
